

1923 BUDGET IS BEING FRAMED

$200,000 Will be Necessary for Operation of City

COMMISSIONERS TO MEET

Deficit of $25,000 to $40,000 is Now Apparent

Budget for the operation of the Lima city government for 1923 is in process of construction at City Hall and will be submitted to the members of the city commission as soon as it is completed, it is announced.

Every department head had been ordered to estimate the minimum amount of money on which his department can be operated during the coming year. As rapidly as these reports are received their totals are placed in the budget.

Indications are that every department will be cut to the bone in an effort to come within the amount of money which will be available, C. A. Bingham, city manager, said Wednesday.

CUTS ARE PLANNED

As has been pointed out before, the first definite cuts will be seen in the police and fire departments and in the public works departments. These are the sections which spend the most money, Bingham says.

Indications are that cuts in the police and fire departments will reach the proportions previously announced. The first slash will possibly be seven policemen and five firemen, Bingham said.

Further reductions may be made by the city commission when it meets to consider the new budget. It is possible that departments which have not felt the pruning knife will receive the attention of the commissioners.

Companies writing fire and theft insurance have already sent men into the city to make an accurate survey of conditions at the present time and to estimate the increased risk following any cuts in the police and fire forces.

These increases in insurance rates will be as great as the savings thru the cutting down of the departments, Bingham believes, and the savings will be only a mirage and not a reality.

BUDGET SOON READY
Work on the new budget was progressing Wednesday to such an extent that Bingham believed a meeting of the commission might be held Wednesday afternoon and evening. If the budget is not ready Wednesday the meeting will be held Thursday.

Expenditures for 1922 are estimated unofficially around $200,000 for the operation of the city. Receipts for 1922 should total between $160,000 and $175,000, making the actual deficit between $25,000 and $40,000, it is asserted.

An official statement regarding the cost of operating the city so far this year is being prepared by the auditor, Bingham said, and will be made public within a few days.

POWER CO. BUYS BUILDING SITE

Will Erect Modern Structure on N. Elizabeth-st

Representatives of the Ohio Power Co. Wednesday closed a deal for the Charles Crockett property adjoining the Business College site on N. Elizabeth-st, thru Michael & Fisher, Lima realtors. The consideration was reported as $50,000.

The power company will erect a modern office building on the lot which is 50 by 260 feet. It was announced that the entire lot will be covered by the building, but nothing further was given out concerning it.

The lot is just north of the Business College building and is one of the choice locations in the downtown section. The company was represented by H. C. Sterling, local manager of the concern.

TRIANGLE CLUBS MAKE THANKSGIVING PLANS

The Blue Triangle Clubs of Central and South High schools will collect their "sacrificial" offerings Wednesday and Thursday. Plans will be made at a committee meeting at the Y. W. C. A. Thursday afternoon to distribute baskets of food on Thanksgiving.

At the meetings of both clubs last week, each girl pledged herself to make some sacrifice during the week and to give the money she would have spent otherwise to the basket fund.

Executive committees of both societies will meet, according to Miss Margaret Cramer, girls' work secretary of the Y. W. C. A., before the end of the week and arrange programs for the entire year.

MAN OWES MUCH TO HIS CITY

Should Not Make His Money Here, Spend it Elsewhere

BIEDERWOLF TELLS LIONS

Babson Quoted on Value of Churches to City

"When a man makes his living and his fortune in a town, he owes that town too much to leave it when he is old to go off to Palm Beach or some other place to live and spend his money," said Dr. Biederwolf in his talk to the Lions club Wednesday noon.

The Lions luncheon this week was a festive affair as the result of a hunting expedition by a number of the members. Generous portions of wild rabbit were served and immensely pleased the club.

John Ross Reed sang two solos and his accompanist Glen Grace also gave a piano solo, prior to Dr. Biederwolf's talk.

The speaker's natural humor enlivened his talk, which was based on responsibility to the city in civic, social, moral and spiritual problems.

"A city can not be a growing one, he continued, 'unless it has money to operate on. We owe an obligation to our city and should see that its various departments are kept up. We may say that we are not a part of every phase of the city's social problems, but I say we are all one together. No use to say that everything is lovely when there is rottenness and purulence in the slums. We must look every problem in the face and realize our responsibilities."

DUTY OF CITIZENS
"Do you really think when you pay taxes and attend to your own business, you are doing all that is necessary? You have also got your city's business to attend to. You owe your city a debt that must be paid by yourself."

"In other cities where I have been, I have always heard that the Lions Club stands for the highest and best in the community. You must realize your responsibility to the greatest extent in any community—the church. When an organization shunts to one side its spiritual side, it is doomed, Roger Babson says if you tear down all the churches in your city, in nine months the time real estate will be worth 45c on the dollar and Roger Babson ought to know. Get up a little earlier next Sunday and tell your wife to church, and meet an obligation you owe."

CAR PLANTS MAKE BIG EMPLOYMENT INCREASE

WASHINGTON—Employment increased in 29 and decreased in 14 industries in October as compared with September, the department of labor announced today. In the same period 34 of the 43 industries reported increased payrolls. The figures covered 3,064 representative establishments which employed 1,625,785 persons last month.

Car building and repairing plants as in September, reported the greatest increase in employment, with 13.7 per cent. in October. Increase ranging from 4.6 to 5.9 per cent were reported for glass, tannery and machine shops, woolen manufacturing, iron and steel and chemicals.

Strikes caused a 30.9 per cent decrease in the pottery industry's employment while decreases of 6.8 and 5.9 per cent, respectively, were shown in fertilizer and automobile manufacturing.

CONDITION OF MAN HURT AT DELPHOS IS SERIOUS

V. P. Bell, Carey, member of a crew of Northcoast Ohio Railroad workers constructing a new engine house at Delphos, who was injured in a fall of 23 feet last week, is in a more serious condition than at first believed, according to a report from McCutcheonville, where he was removed to his father's home.

It was thought at first he was only slightly bruised and that no bones were broken, but he has a broken collarbone and ligaments torn loose in one of his arms, reports indicate. He will be incapacitated for several months.

STREET RAIL RATE CHANGES SUNDAY

Four Tickets for 25 Cents, Now Scale Effective

EQUIPMENT IS ORDERED

One Man Cars to be in Operation by February

Rates of fare for the Lima City Street Railway Co. as provided in the new franchise passed two months ago by the city commission will go into effect Sunday, officials of the company have announced.

Cash fares will remain the same, seven cents, but ticket fares will be increased slightly, four tickets being sold for 25 cents as compared with nine tickets for 50 cents at present.

Announcement that orders have been placed for five one-man cars to be delivered in February was made at the same time. These cars will be of the very latest design and will be much more satisfactory than the present cars, officials believe.

15 MORE ORDERED
As soon as possible after the first delivery 15 more cars will be delivered to the company. It is hoped by the end of 1923 the whole system will be operating with the new cars.

Rebuilding of the tracks will not be started until the city starts its new paving program in 1923. Main-st will receive first attention, it is understood.

With the new cars and the rebuilt roadbed officials of the company assert they will have a system that will be second to none in the country for a city of the size of Lima.

Present cars will be maintained until they are displaced by the new cars. They are being repaired so the patrons of the system will be comfortable during the winter weather.

One of the new cars will probably be placed on each line at first in order that the patrons may become used to the new method of handling travel, it was announced.

When the new rates of fare go into effect patrons will be asked to turn in their old tickets and receive new ones for them, it is understood.

SEEKS VIOLATORS AT DELPHOS

Lima Game Warden After Illegal Rabbit Hunters

Deputy Game Warden Charles Hanes, Lima, was in Delphos Wednesday investigating complaints that hunting laws have been violated, notably the killing of rabbits and other game by aid of auto spotlights. Several instances of the kind have been reported in the district.

"Violators of this particular section of the game law should be given the full penalty," Hanes said. "Not only is the use of spotlights an infraction of the law prohibiting the killing of game a specific time after sunset, but it is extremely unsportsmanlike," Hanes added.

"Rabbits haven't a chance for their lives after a spotlight is flashed on them. They become blinded and fall easy prey, hence the lack of sportsmanship. A true sportsman will hunt a rabbit out, even when he has a chance at sitting, and give it a chance to run. Hunters are curbing their own privilege by breaking the law. Even more strict laws than now exist can be expected if infractions continue," according to the warden.

Since the anti-spotlight feature was introduced several years ago, there have been four violators arrested and prosecuted in Allen-co, Hanes declared.

COPPERS SAVED!

Strick and Watkins Get Funds in Nick of Time

An eleventh hour rescue. That's what George Strick, captain of police, and Dick Watkins, motor policeman, called it Wednesday when they were informed that funds were forthcoming for them from the city.

Strick and Watkins were worrying about an order given them by federal court in Toledo. The two officers were told to appear in court Thursday morning to testify in the case of Charles Ladden and Joe O'Boyle, N. Main-st, being held on liquor charges.

Between them, the officers had 20 cents. They were hesitant about disobeying the order of the U. S. bench.

Tho the checks to be given them by the city Wednesday are for but one quarter of their month's salary, they affirm that the means for the trip to Toledo. Their expenses as witnesses will be returned to them in the shape of court fees.

WEATHER MAKER SETTLES DOWN

Fickleness, one of the outstanding features of the demeanor of the weatherman, has apparently been sidetracked for the time being, in view of the current forecast sent out from Washington, concerning the prospective state of conditions generally.

Having determined to settle down, for a time at least, the weatherman has decided upon partly cloudy tonight and Thursday, with no change in temperature.

"Tall right; nobody is objecting. The biggest consolation is that it remains dry underfoot and that danger to the populace is not enhanced by conditions that bring wet rather than extremes."

Having asserted that he'll be good for a day at least, the forecaster affords the health authorities an opportunity to catch up with their line of warning against the danger of disease, for the benefit of mankind.

HUMAN BONES IN TREE STUMP

Lakeview Authorities Baffled by Skeleton Find

LAKEVIEW.—(Special).—Human bones topped by the skull of a woman, from which hangs a two foot length of tangled hair, has been discovered in a decayed tree stump near here.

Authorities are baffled. They are unable to explain the presence of the bones. Records fail to reveal a possible clue to the identity of the person once formed by them. Records of mysterious disappearances are lacking.

A thorough investigation is being planned.

The half skeleton was found by Deputy Sheriff Jeff Houchin, his two sons and Jesse McCoy while they were setting traps in the woods on the Horn farm.

The bones were examined by a physician in Lakeview who pronounced them to be those of an eighteen year old girl.

An attempt to determine the length of time the bones have been in the stump is being made. The fact that they were found partially wrapped in chicken mesh wires leads authorities to believe they have been there for a period exceeding 25 years.

"RECLINERS' ROW" CHAIRS IN DELPHOS CITY CASTLE ARE HARD ON LINOLEUM

Feet leave other impressions than imprints on the sands of time. Linoleum, for instance, faithfully records movements of the rather extremities and thereby assumes a threadbare appearance.

"Recliners' Row" in the City Building, Delphos, has borne heavily on the smooth replica of the proverbial alkali. There is not a chair in the battery that has not indirectly caused the demise of the linoleum.

But big, gaping holes where the feet of the recliners rest on the floor and where the legs of the chairs jab into the covering, will soon be obliterated.

A large section of linoleum was delivered at the town "castle" Tuesday, Wednesday, or some other day soon, it will replace the worn section "Recliners' Row."

"Good laws never grow old," quoth the sage. If that is true, then the linoleum is doomed to die again, for none but good story tellers occupy the straight-back chairs of the main lobby, front, City Building, Delphos.

MCDONALD SUIT GOES TO JURY

Rehearing of Case Against Railroad is Ended

CONTRIBUTORY NEGLIGENCE

Court Calls Attention to Obligation of Both

Decision in a $25,000 personal injury suit filed by Clark T. McDonald against the Pennsylvania Railroad is in the hands of the jury which heard the second trial of the case before Judge Fred C. Becker in common pleas court.

Arguments in the case were concluded by attorneys at noon Wednesday, after a trial lasting two and one-half days.

McDonald obtained a $23,000 verdict against the railroad company in 1919 as compensation for injuries incurred while boarding a train at Main-st crossing, June 4, 1917.

The case was reversed by appeals court on error and the decision affirmed by the supreme court.

In the retrial of the case little evidence was presented by the railroad company other than to show that the post which McDonald crashed against while climbing on the moving car was not located on railroad property.

The plaintiff lost the sight of one eye and was otherwise injured.

In charging the jury Judge Fred C. Becker instructed the members to take into consideration negligence on the part of the plaintiff as well as that of the defendant, if any.

If from the evidence, it is found that the railroad company knew of the existence of the post and its danger to safety of employees, then they are to find for the plaintiff, making a reduction in the amount of damages for contributory negligence.

The jury was instructed to take into consideration whether or not Clark McDonald was performing his required duties when injured, or was going out side of his duty to deliver the switching list to the train crew.

DESERTED BY U. S. TIGER CHARGES

Quit Allies in Peace Struggle,
Clemenceau Declares

ASKED TO RETURN AND HELP

Ex-Premier Speaks to New York
Audience of 4,000

(By A. L. BRADFORD)

NEW YORK — (United Press) — America's answer to Georges Clemenceau's plea that she return to the side of France to preserve world peace was conveyed to the "father of victory" today in reports on the first editorial comment and other expressions of opinion on his speech at the Metropolitan Opera House.

The Tiger arose at 5:15 a. m. after his vigorous evening on the platform, and after orders were issued that all comment on his appeal be gathered and put in shape to be studied he set about translating his own address of last night from English into French.

Clemenceau's speech, delivered before an audience of 4,000, including many of America's "best minds," leaders in business, finance, politics and other fields, was regarded as one of the frankest declarations on record concerning international relations.

WYNNING SOLIDIFIED

He warned that German monarchism such as "Ludendorff and Hindenburg are preparing to overthrow the government and establish monarchy—a prelude to further wars."

The great war, he said, was as much the affair of America as of France, but the United States left before the whole matter was cleared up.

France has been disappointed in the results of the peace, he said. It had foreseen that Germany would pay no reparations and would flout the Versailles treaty, he would have marched on to Berlin, Clemenceau said, adding that General Pershing would have gone with him.

Pershing sat on the platform, Padon, former premier of Poland, heard the speech from a box.

The audience broke into applause frequently during the address. The name of Woodrow Wilson was cheered for about a minute. One man in the gallery interrupted and yelled "Yes, yes," when Clemenceau asked whether any one feared the French army was being kept for aggression, evoked a chorus of "throw him out," but the Tiger talked on, right thru the disturbance as if serenely unconscious of it.

SCORES TRIUMPH

The Tiger undoubtedly scored a great personal triumph.

"You left after the contract was finished and you said 'execute as you may,'" the old French patriot emphatically declared of the United States. "And you were wrong in that you left without any proposal whatever."

"When people have been mixing their blood—I am not speaking of the goods of this world—but their own blood on the field of battle they have no right to leave, if there is a difference, without trying to adjust that difference."

"You broke all the organs of economic solidarity. Now, we hear that we had better pay what we owe. Certain I do not want you to believe that we are such people that do not like to pay our debts. The question is really non-existent."

AMERICA'S PART

"If America," continued France's "father of victory," could take upon it in some way to renew conversations with England and France, not to give a promise of anything that would engage the future that she had not intended doing during the war. If you could give faith and simply say let us establish a plan of what is to be done and when we have established it, it should take into consideration guarantees. The moment it is done, it will do much to restore things to a more normal state."

Standing before the audience in the great horseshoe of the opera house, as a human embodiment of the fears of France, Clemenceau scathingly denounced Germany as a country whose word is worth nothing, and raised the specter of Germany preparing for another war.

"Do you know that they are manufacturing cannon by the hundreds, that they are making machinery everywhere. And what are they preparing? I tell you plainly, as I told Lloyd George before the war they are preparing for war again."

HUNTER INJURED

ST. MARYS — First victim of the hunting season in this territory is Julius Otting, of Minster, south of here. Otting's neck and shoulders were peppered with shot from a gun in the hands of another hunter. His injuries are not serious.

CO-OPERATION BETWEEN DEPARTMENTS NEEDED, LANCKER TELLS FOREMEN

Co-operation between police departments is the missing link in the effort to combat crime, T. A. Lancker, chief of the Lima police department told members of the Foreman's club of the Y. M. C. A. at a banquet held there Tuesday night. He advocates a closer relation between departments of all cities in the United States.

"It is utterly impossible for our own police department, for example, to apprehend professional crooks who have committed a crime in this city," he explained. "As soon as their job is done, they leave immediately for another place. We must depend upon the police everywhere to be on the lookout for them."

Due to the inability of officials to effectively administer the laws. Lack of co-operation between departments was again blamed.

LABOR UNIONS TO OPEN NEW BANK

Will be Established in New York

McCALEB TO BE PRESIDENT

Plans for Financial Institution Reported by Forbes

(BY B. C. FORBES)
NEW YORK (Special).—Labor union leaders are to establish a bank in New York.

Each of us should do in this world the thing we are capable of doing best. We have derived the fullest amount of satisfaction from our work and, at the same time, can put most into the world.

Organized labor is already running a number of banks, including one, which, judging from the growth achieved, has been run unusually successfully. The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers' Cooperative Bank of Cleveland was founded November 1, 1920, with $650,000 and now has $1,300,000 deposits.

If labor can run a bank successfully in Cleveland and elsewhere surely there ought to be room for a labor bank in the largest city in America, with its 700,000 unionists.

It is not unusual for special groups to organize a bank to take care of its banking requirements. We already have in New York for example, the Chemical National Bank, Coal and Iron National Bank, Importers and Traders National Bank, Corn Exchange Bank, Industrial Bank, Mechanics and Metals National Bank, Farmers Loan and Trust Company, Textile Banking Company, Bankers Trust Co.

Of course, all these institutions do business with people not in their special field, and a labor bank could doubtless do the same, the difference being particularly to those belonging to its own class. The proposed bank summarizes the services it will offer working men thus:

- Formation of credit unions and the fostering of cooperative movements.
- Loans of a productive and constructive nature, such as the building of factories, etc.
- Investigation and information on investments.
- Acting as executor of wills, etc.
- Transmission of money to relatives in foreign countries.

The man in mind for the presidency of labor's bank, which will be known as the Federation Trust Company, and plans to have branches in Brooklyn, the Bronx, Queens and Richmond and institutions in other cities, is Walter F. McCaleb, who already has had experience in banking as vice president and general manager of labor's bank in Cleveland.

What are Mr. McCaleb's ideas and ideals concerning the part labor can and should play in the banking field?

Says Mr. McCaleb: "Back of the program of the labor banks is the great and grave plan of bringing organized workers into the field of finance so as to make them feel just what power there is in the control of money and credits; to bridge over, as it were, the chasm that lies between organized working groups and capitalist groups. If such banks should aid in mitigating the asperities that lie between these groups it will have served a tremendous end in itself and one of vital importance so far as our nation is concerned.

"There can be no doubt but that if the line of demarcation between the workers and the capitalists could be broken down so that it would be difficult to distinguish one group from the other, we should develop a much more uniform state of society; the present ignorance, one of the other, and lack of understanding would merge into comprehension, allaying today's unrest among the workers and putting an end to industrial warfare; and we should develop a much more uniform state of society—one doubtless better able to cope with the problems of the disordered and disorganized age."

There is this difference between labor banks and other banks; excess profits above 10 per cent go not to stockholders, but to savings deposits.

Now, some capitalists pooh-pooh the idea of organized labor entering the industrial, commercial, financial or suchlike fields. But if organized labor can establish factories or stores or banks or newspaper or other enterprises and run them soundly and profitably, why should it be so and why should it be so? They are heartily welcomed if they can perform business or financial service more economically and more efficiently than capitalists? It makes for the greatest good of the greatest number to have the world's work done as economically and efficiently as possible. If organized labor can produce brains capable of doing certain things better than others can do them, then let organized labor branch out, by all means.

Competition? The man or the concern that can be bowled over easily by competition ought to be bowled over.

May the best win.

SEX BIG FACTOR IN TRIALS

brute and no sentence is too severe.

But let a woman strike her husband, or nag him, or make his life unbearable, and the public applauds her conduct and says he deserves it.

SEX AS CAUSE

Most all murders committed by women grow out of sex relations, whether in the family or outside. Is there any biological reason for this, or would the indiscriminate hanging of women restore equality and prevent this class of murders?

Nature seems interested mainly in the preservation of life, and in its preservation women are the most important. Both as to the bearing and rearing of children, women necessarily take the responsibility and must take it.

This is not only true of human life, but it is a law that reaches all animal life as well.

Neither with men nor animals, does the newly born offspring make any strong impression upon the male. Whereas with the normal female, in most cases, she is ready to give up her life for an offspring that is not even of sufficient age to appeal to her on account of association.

MATERNAL INSTINCT STRONG

It is then quite beyond question, that the strength of the maternal instinct is fundamental to the preservation of the species. All normal life, and most abnormalities relating to sex is based upon this primal feeling.

When it is interrupted, either directly thru the child or indirectly thru the male, it means to her an interruption of life. It means that the fundamental law of being is raised in protest. Laws, customs, institutions, and even common kindness are of no effect to control conduct.

EQUALITY IMPOSSIBLE

For these reasons equality of justice between the sexes is impossible. If men and women could be judged alike, it would ultimately mean the extinction of the human race. Human laws and human customs cannot undo the innate feelings and instincts which are the basis of life.

If human institutions could be evolved where complete justice would be meted out to all, then every person would be judged not only according to his actions, but according to the physical and mental makeup of his machine, and according to full considerations of time and place.

If this were done, probably no one would condemn another. There are very few women who commit murder who could be deterred from it, or in any way influenced, no matter what the consequences might be.

A general crusade, or a general feeling in favor of visiting severe penalties on women who slay, would simply result in sorrow, disgrace and misery to thousands of women and their families without in any way changing the conditions of life.

Not only is it unscientific, and cruel to judge men and women alike, but it is really unjust to judge any two human beings alike, and the safest way is not to judge at all.

WOMEN MORE CLEVER

By JUDGE FLORENCE E. ALLEN
First Woman Criminal Court Judge
Just Elected to Ohio Supreme Court.

CLEVELAND (Special).—

Three are a number of reasons why women are so often acquitted in murder cases. Here are some of them:

1. Men have always sat on juries and men instinctively shrink from holding women strictly accountable for their misdeeds. Now that women sit on juries, I expect the percentage of convictions in cases of women to be higher.

2. Women are more clever than men in arousing sympathy. I had one woman, a hardened criminal, stage a terrific fainting spell in my courtroom after the jury found her guilty. It took four men to carry her to jail. She continued having these spells so long that I had to defer pronouncing sentence. Finally I sent her word that the longer she acted so, the longer she would be in jail. Within a few moments she sent up word that she would be good and received her sentence meekly, with no trace of feeling.

3. Cases in which women are tried for murder usually involve circumstantial evidence only. A man may be tried for murder arising out of a robbery or some case in which direct evidence of the past crime may help to prove the murder.

But when a woman murders someone it is apt to be thru jealousy or some personal reason. Women have murdered for life insurance, but in general, personal reasons are involved. Hence, they are more sympathetic, and because motives and the workings of the human heart are so hard to trace, the murder case against a woman is really harder to prove than the case against a man, who so often arises out of some other crime.

PINE INDUSTRY OF U. S. MENACED

Great Forests Are Threatened by New Plague

HURRIED PARLEY CALLED

Timber Owners Plan to Combat Blister Rust

PORTLAND, Ore. (United Press).—A hurriedly-called conference of timber owners government officials and forestry experts was in session here today to discuss measures to be taken to combat the dreaded white pine "blister rust," which despite all precautions has finally reached the great forest of the Pacific Northwest.

Originally introduced into the northeastern states of the United States from Europe by the importation of diseased "white pine trees," the disease has ravaged the forests of New England, New York, Pennsylvania, Wisconsin, Minnesota and Michigan.

Strict quarantine measures which were designed by prohibiting the importation of currants and gooseberries "hosts" of the germ of the "rust," by banning the shipment of these berries from the east to states west of the Mississippi Valley, to restrict the spread of the disease, have proved unavailing.

The disease when it attacks a young tree, rapidly causes its death. In the case of older trees, the tree may survive a few years, but its ultimate death is inevitable.

According to the National Lumber Manufacturers Association, the presence of the disease in the North-western forest menace timber worth $288,000,000 on the stump, and five or six times as much to the tributary population which lives off the lumbering industry. The whole future of lumbering and its dependent industries are threatened and pending plans for reforestation are imperilled.

DANGER IN IDAHO

It is estimated that the great white pine regions of Idaho, which contain over 10 billion board feet of western white pine, are in immediate danger of infection. The Idaho forests represent all but 3 billion feet of standing timber of this kind. Sugar pine in Idaho, California and Oregon, it is feared are also subject to the present menace. If both are attacked, 77 billion feet of the existing 98 billion feet of white pine in the whole United States will be menaced with rapid extinction.

If the rust gets well under way, it is believed that the only hope of saving the forests in Idaho will be to cut timber as rapidly as possible in order to save it before it is too late. In the meantime an aggressive fight will be waged to eradicate the infected currant and gooseberry bushes in the region, which act as the "hosts" to the deadly "rust."

Greatest apprehension is felt among the lumbering industry over the outcome of the battle which is about to be waged, and measures for which will be decided at the conference now in session. It is pointed out that if cutting is to be resorted to as a resort, the lumber industry will be vastly disturbed by the inevitable forced wholesale marketing of Idaho pine, where cutting will first begin.

No other lumbering districts will be able to compete with the wholesale unloading of Idaho pine, it is said. Aside from this problem of Idaho, the fate of other districts menaced by the "rust" is also to be decided. The present conference, therefore, it is believed, will have a decisive influence on the future of the Pacific Coast pine forests and the pine lumbering industry.

Every reserve corps officer in the Fifth corps area has been designated by the War Department as a recruiting agent to aid in securing 5,000 callists for the United States Army.

The officers are urged to single out such young men in their communities as might be benefited by army service and urge them to enlist.

Vacancies now exist at Columbus Barracks, Fort Thomas, Ky., in the Eighth Corps area, and the Hawaiian Islands.

TURKS DEFEATED AT PEACE MEET

Lose Fight for Open Sessions of Conference

LAUSANNE, (Associated Press).—The Lausanne conference, having organized for work, is now ready to take up a task of restoring peace in the Near East.

The effort of Ismet Pasha and his Turkish delegation for open sessions and complete publicity for all conference proceedings has been overruled and the announcements will be limited to formal communications agreed upon by the secretary of the conference.

The Turkish delegates are considerably agitated over this decision, contending that members of the other delegations are divulging what transpires in confidential circles whereas they, as Mohammedan gentlemen, have kept their word.

M. Barrera, head of the French delegation, Lord Curzon and other diplomats of the old school have apparently determined to give this meeting a character different from that of past conferences in which Mr. Lloyd George has been a moving spirit.

Round table gatherings such as these are Mr. Lloyd George's specialty, but they apparently are not so much to the taste of the new British government.

Neither does Premier Mussolini of Italy show the enthusiasm for them that has been manifested by previous Italian governments and there are indications that Europe hereafter may not expect a conference every few weeks.

"Make peace by Christmas" is the slogan which is being passed around but indications are that the work will be scarcely well begun by that time if the delegates delve thoroughly into the tangled problems which have arisen from the destruction of the Sevres treaty and the defeat of the Greeks.

PRICE SLASHING IN COAL IS BEGUN

Material Slump in Many States is Reported

RESULT OF LIGHT DEMAND

Figures on General Situation Are Given Out

CHICAGO, (Associated Press).—Expectations that some coal operators would recoup their losses in the recent coal strike thru increased prices, a belief given wide publicity at the end of the strike when one or two operators were quoted to that effect, has failed to materialize, according to a survey of fuel conditions in middle western states.

The wide publicity combined with an unusually warm autumn, discouraged buying by domestic consumers to such an extent that there had been a noticeable drop in prices in many states. This is particularly noticed in those areas where freight rates for short hauls are not a major factor in the retail prices.

Typical of the general trend, according to Robert Medill, state fuel administrator of Illinois, are prices at the Central Illinois mines. Immediately after the strike the operators quoted screenings, their lowest grade coal, at from $ .25 to $3.75 at the pit mouth. Last week central Illinois screenings were offered as low as $1.50 and in spite of the reduction the mines are unable to book enough orders to average 50 per cent production.

Similar price reductions are reported from several states. In Kansas dealers are selling coal at one to two dollars under last year's prices. Indiana, Missouri and some other states report lower prices.

SUMMARY OF SITUATION

A summary of the middle western fuel situation shows:

Illinois—Considerable coal on tracks; mines working less than half the week; some coal shortage in southern fields; prices dropping in central Illinois districts.

Indiana—No apparent shortage; Governor McCray reports some drop from the post-strike price peak; warm autumn decreased demand.

Michigan—Utilities and manufacturers have sufficient supplies for present; domestic customers may be inconvenienced with cold weather; anthracite shortage particularly felt.

Ohio—State regulation of prices from mine to consumer checks famine and maintains stable market; fuel moving freely.

Wisconsin—Twelve million tons of soft coal on hand, with 2,000,000 more expected before navigation closes; anthracite shortage serious, with only 500,000 tons on hand and not more than 14,000 tons expected weekly until navigation closes.

Kentucky—Situation not acute,

Women of Thirties Most Beautiful, Say Critics

Full Bloom of Loveliness May Be Preserved Far Beyond Middle Life by Care of Health—Tanlac Has Helped Thousands Regain Lost Vitality.

Many famous men have said that no woman is really beautiful until after she is thirty. Her beauty has been flushed and refined the fires of experience into a fulsomeness with which even the freshest of youth cannot compare.

But thirty is a dangerous and deceptive age. A woman may grow even more beautiful and attractive than ever, or may enter into a rapid decline that robs her of the glowing skin, the clear eyes, the charming smile and the gracefully curving figure that are so essential to the comely and attractive.

Nature has provided the danger signals and they should be heeded with scrupulous care if one is to preserve indefinitely the full bloom of loveliness.

DANGER SIGNS. Digestive troubles are the chief dangers and Tanlac, the celebrated system purifier and body builder, is the chief remedy. If you feel tired out all the time, or your skin is sallow and your lips pale, if your cheeks are thin and colorless, and you suffer from headaches and backache, do not sleep well and wake up with a bad taste in your mouth; if you are nervous and out of sorts, have dizzy spells and black spots before your eyes; if you suffer from acid stomach, indigestion and are afraid to eat certain things, it is a sure sign that your digestive organs are not performing their full duty and the system is becoming clogged with impurities.

Tanlac was designed to overcome just such a condition and thousands of women throughout the United States and Canada have taken this wonderful medicine with such remarkable results that they have expressed gratitude in the public press.

Mrs. Robert O. Reynolds, 127 N. Denver St., Kansas City, Mo., says: "For ten long years I suffered from a very bad form of rheumatism, stomach trouble and nervousness. Three bottles of Tanlac built me up twenty-five pounds and I haven't a trace of my old troubles left. I believe Tanlac will help anybody."

Do not become old before time. Restore and preserve the bloom of beauty by building up health, which is the only source of lasting attractiveness. Get a bottle of Tanlac today from any good gist.

NOTE: You cannot hope to get the most satisfactory results from Tanlac without first establishing free and regular movement of bowels. Tanlac Vegetable Pills absolutely free from calomel are sold on a positive guarantee to satisfaction.

except in car shortage; reserve supplies increasing because of indifferent demand due to mild autumn. In the northwest and southwest the situation generally is the most promising since the resumption of mining in the east.

Only in Texas is there any indication of a possible shortage in the winter.

"Nothing quite like it—so 'sweet', so mild"

Would you like to know why there is "nothing quite like" Dutch Masters?

LONG before we had manufactured a single Dutch Masters cigar, we had formed a fairly definite impression of what Dutch Masters might be. We had in mind something out of the common run of good cigars—a cigar with a flavor distinctly and peculiarly its own.

From the Island of Java we secured the right wrapper leaf for the results we wished to obtain. In the Island of Cuba we found the desired Havana filler tobaccos. Much time was spent in experimental curing and blending processes, so that the flavor of this new cigar—Dutch Masters—might fairly reflect the individual characters of its varied tobaccos.

The world of smokers knows how successful were our efforts to create a new and different kind of cigar. Dutch Masters "registered" from the start. It proved to be what is known in the industry as a "natural seller." From that day to this, we are glad to say, Dutch Masters has gone on making sales records, and breaking them almost as fast as they were made.

We pin our faith to Dutch Masters, because we know, better than anybody else, what goes into it, and how painstakingly it is put together. Many thousands of smokers evidently share our conviction that for tobaccos and for workmanship, there is nothing quite like Dutch Masters.

Dutch Masters Cigar is made by Consolidated Cigar Corporation, New York. Distributed by Lima Cigar & Tobacco Co., Lima, Ohio.

FIREMEN, POLICE GET CHECKS

Quarter Month Salary Given
Safety Department Employees

DONATIONS ENABLE PAY

Additional Impetus is Given to Theatre Benefit Day

Gladness reigned at the police and fire stations Wednesday. Wives and dependents of city employees saw visions of coal in the coal bins and food in the cupboard. Each policeman and fireman received one-half of the salary due him.

Donations to the police and fire funds Tuesday made this possible, C. A. Bingham, said, and orders were issued at once for the payment of a quarter-month's salary to each member of the forces.

Several of the policemen and firemen had appealed to the city for help stating they had no money for food or fuel and that actual privation would be caused if part of the pay was not forthcoming at once Bingham said.

DONATIONS AID

There was approximately $1800 in the fund and with the receipt of $300 from the Lima Trust Co. and $150 from the Lima Boxing commission the necessary $2,200 for the quarter-month's salaries was provided.

As soon as the donations reach another $2,200 the balance of the pay will be turned to the firemen and policemen. A start has already been made on it.

J. B. Weil, manager of the Leiser store has donated the gown worn by Miss Bob White in the Federation of Women's clubs opera for the fund. It will be sold and the proceeds given to the firemen and policemen. It is said the value of the gown is more than $100.

Dr. W. E. Biederwolf will hold a special children's service Friday afternoon. Each child will be asked to take a dime to the meeting for their donation to the fund.

Many large donations are expected by the city officials on Theater Day Friday. Indications are that the theaters will be crowded and that the receipts will be very large. Bingham said.

REALTORS AS WITNESSES IN DAMAGE SUIT GROWING OUT OF BRIDGE BUILDING

Lima realtors figured as witnesses in the trial of an action brought by L. E. Justus against the city of Lima, to obtain $1,000 claimed as damages to S. Main-st property.

Realtors were called by Justus to give their opinion on the alleged damage to the value of his holdings at bridge. The structure cuts off from across to the street 18 feet owned by Justus situated at the south approach, it is asserted.

John Wyre, C. R. Baechler and J. R. Hooker were among the real estate men to take the stand Wednesday morning. John Boose and other dealers will be witnesses to offset their testimony, when the city has its turn.

Vaughn C. Miller, City engineer, was a witness in behalf of Justus Tuesday afternoon. He told of the construction of the bridge.

Members of the jury are: C. A. Duval, A. C. Spangler, O. L. DeWeese, Charles Youmans, E. H. Jones, Albert Gratz, C. M. Cosack.

CINCINNATI. — Austin McHenry, star outfielder of the St. Louis National League team who has been ill in a hospital here for about two months, was taken to his home at Mt. Oreb, Ohio, last night. Physicians at the hospital here hold no hope for his recovery, saying they considered his condition as hopeless.

McHenry was operated upon for tumor of the brain about two weeks ago. For a time after the operation, his condition showed improvement, but several days ago he suffered a relapse. Since then he has grown steadily worse, physicians at the hospital said.

HAIL TO "THE TIGER"

ALTHO Lima is not included in the itinerary of Georges Clemenceau, the French "Tiger," it is not impossible that the former Premier of the European republic will visit this city. In that event, it would be a pleasing experience for Lima people and an undeniable distinction for this city.

It is superfluous to say that Clemenceau is welcome. He is not a stranger here. At the age of 81 he is able to look back over the vista of the years, for a full century, when he was employed in the United States as a newspaper reporter. The experience he gained in an humble but most important vocation was in after years of the most pronounced aid to him in his great work for his native country.

His retirement from power in his own country has not in any manner embittered his life. He speaks the English tongue as well as he does his beloved French. He comes not as the envoy of a nation, but as a citizen to tell us in our own language the real facts as they exist over there. He brings the message of the needs, the hopes and the aspirations of Europe, particularly of France.

Altho out of politics, he is still in the thick of it. What he will say here will doubtless be given closer attention and carry more weight than were he decorated with the insignia of high office in his native land. He is a fighter. He has earned the title of "The Tiger." He will take his place in history along with Lloyd George and Woodrow Wilson. He brings a message of import. America will hear it courteously and, what is better, believe in his earnestness and sincerity.

No prouder distinction could come to Lima than to have the honor of entertaining, however briefly, the man who guided and directed his people to final success in the World war, winning for himself the undying title "Father of Victory."

JUGGLING SINKING FUND FINANCES

ATTENTION of the city government has been directed on various occasions to the serious crisis which will arise unless it takes steps to assess property owners for special improvements which have been made in the city. So far no action has been taken along this line and a situation which may impair the municipality's credit is expected to come early in the new year.

Records at City Hall show that interest on money borrowed for improvements which have not been assessed has been paid out of sinking funds placed there for another purpose. This is poor business, altho it may be legal. The money in the sinking fund is placed there for a definite purpose—every dollar of it—and should not be used for any debt other than the one for which it is intended.

Continuation of the policy which has been followed will lead to more than $350,000 in bonds and interest on special improvements falling due without money collected to meet the obligations. There can be no good reason for delaying assessments as the work has been completed and the property benefited stands back of it. Owners probably would prefer the city to make its assessments and get all details straightened out rather than drift along in an uncertain manner.

With improvements of the magnitude which are waiting to be assessed there is certain to be litigation and protests. All of this will require much time to settle. There is barely enough time now to get the assessments made and details worked out before the obligations fall due. The city should start this work without further delay.

SENSE

GLENN FRANK, editor of Century magazine, says he notices three distinct classes of people—pessimists, optimists and rationalists.

The future hinges on the rationalists, Frank thinks.

There is such a thing as too much optimism, the same as too much pessimism. The happy medium is rationalism, or common sense. In the long run it prevails—but usually after the mischief is done and "it's too late."

"OVER THERE"

THE London Daily Mail says editorially: "Our information is that while Germany is doing her utmost to avoid a just payment of reparations, she is stealthily preparing for a renewal of hostilities. There is in existence in Germany an elaborate process of secret armament, together with far larger stores of munitions than Berlin will admit or than Downing Street suspects."

FEAR

ALFRED DUREU, Frenchman, 31, feared he had cancer of the stomach. The fear became an obsession. To cure himself, he began rigid dieting.

Now he is dead. The autopsy reveals that he had no cancer, and that death was due to starvation. Getting back of that, death was due to fear—to imagination. Fear, a mental illness, is one of the deadliest of diseases. To help conquer it, read Basil King's new book, "The Conquest of Fear."

DOES THE COOK PEPPER THE FOOD

With cooks so scarce and so hard to please it does seem too bad to pick on them even in the interest of public welfare, but unfortunately a great many harmless people have suffered unmerited punishment at the hands of mighty cool cooks—perfectly good cooks who happened to be innocent carriers of typhoid fever, for example. So it is not enough for a family to present satisfactory evidence of financial and social standing and so on to a prospective cook and promise her the exclusive use of the car Thursdays and Sundays. It is well to consider whether she will pepper the food.

Cooking, perhaps more than any other domestic occupation, affords the opportunity for infection, the chance for disease to pass from the cook to those who partake of the cook's dishes. Experience and special investigation have proved that there is practically no risk at all of contracting any disease of a communicable or infectious kind by working in a laundry and handling the soiled clothes which come in from all sorts of places and people. Housecleaning and housework in general expose the houseworker to no particular danger. Nor is there any particular risk that the occupants of the house may contract any disease from such houseworkers. But cooking is another story.

Everybody who is reasonably intelligent knows nowadays that we give off a fine invisible spray from the mouth when talking; that this spray consists of innumerable droplets of moisture which may carry some four feet or more from the face of the talker; and that if the talker happens to have some communicable disease, the virus or germs of which are eliminated in the saliva, the germs may be carried in the droplets, to lodge wherever the spray falls. Now suppose the cook has something in her head, no matter what, but something communicable; and suppose she talks more or less as she prepares the meals; suppose she rambles on while she inspects a pudding or something that is just as nice and warm, agreeably warm to encourage the germs which happen to alight on the pudding; and finally suppose—

It is unpleasant to suppose such things. Sad but true. Disease germs must have encouragement if they are to survive long enough outside of the body to endanger a second person. Food not too hot to eat is just about ideal for the encouragement of any disease germs which may happen to be put in it. I say "be put in," because disease germs never go anywhere of their own activity—they have to be carried, usually by a human being, always by an animate being, in order to get anywhere at all in this world.

Once outside of the body they just literally curl up and die from exhaustion. That is why you can't catch a cold from a cold person. (Copyright, 1922)

RED UPRISING IN BRITAIN FLARES

Plot Against Government Is Unearthed, Police Claim

ARMY READY TO STRIKE

Mobilized for Attempt to March on Downing-st

(BY LLOYD ALLEN)

LONDON — (United Press)—An army of unemployed estimated at a hundred thousand men, mobilized today for an attempt to march on Downing-st to insist upon its demands being met by the Bonar Law government.

For days past unemployed contingents have been converging on the capital from all directions. The conservative press takes a sensational view of the situation, stating that a communist plot is afoot. Bonar Law refuses to receive representatives of the unemployed.

Heavy reserves of police are in readiness to deal with all eventualities.

Baricades used during the Sinn Féin activities will repel the invaders if they attempt to storm Downing-st in order to reach the premier's residence.

The rising temper of labor in England coincides with the election of 150 of their representatives in the new parliament.

SEVERE RIOTING FEARED

LONDON—(Associated Press)—An alleged communist plot to provoke revolutionary trouble in London today in connection with an anticipated demonstration by the unemployed is the feature of this morning's newspapers, some of which predict serious rioting.

The organizers of the alleged plot are said by several papers, which claim sufficient official support for their statements, to be dangerous Communists working in cooperation with Moscow. Their plan is said to be the exploitation of the large gathering of unemployed who marched from the provinces to London last week to call attention to their condition and to ask the premier to release a deputation.

Rumors, supported by the police, spread through the city yesterday to the effect that organizers of the unemployed were determined to force an entrance to Downing-st from Whitehall today and if the interview was still refused, to start a fight.

It seems probable, however, that the lurid suggestions made by some newspapers as to what may happen today will be fulfilled, inasmuch as three Labor Commons after an interview with Mr. Bonar Law last night, agreed to advise the leaders of the unemployed to accept a conference with Sir Montague Barlow, the minister of labor, and abandon any plans for an attempt to force an entrance to Downing-st. The Daily Herald says that this advice will be accepted and that a deputation will see the minister of labor this afternoon.

100 RABBITS PROVIDED FOR FEED ARRANGED BY DELPHOS K. P. TONIGHT

With the promise of 100 rabbits with which to equip the banquet table, Delphos Knights of Pythias have arranged a huge "feed" for members and friends in the club rooms, W. Second-st., Wednesday night.

City and country hunters united Tuesday in scouring nearby territory for the elusive cottontail. A party of five led by E. E. Truesdale bagged 101. A team under Fred Hume reported 99 Tuesday night, with a number of others to be heard from to swell the number. Some of the latter did not report until Wednesday morning. One hundred rabbits seemed certain, Hume declared.

The banquet will be interspersed with a program. Efforts to obtain speakers were not productive of results but at least an impromptu program will be staged, it is promised.

The festivities will begin at 8. Rabbit and all the trimmings and then the talk test and "smokes."

RAIL CONGESTION HOLDS UP FUEL

No Shortage of Coal, But Supply Is Doled Out

Rail congestion is again threatening Lima's coal supply and is making it impossible for many cars on the road to reach their destination here.

There is no shortage of coal, Cliff Wood, dealer, said Wednesday. Mines which supply Lima are able and willing to furnish all the coal needed, but inability of the railroads to handle shipments is holding them down.

"We have 10 or more cars of coal on the road, but until they arrive we are compelled to limit deliveries of coal to one or two tons to a customer. This keeps everybody on hand to mouth but also keeps them warm," Wood said.

Other dealers report the same inability to get shipments thru on time and state that their stocks of coal on hand now are the lowest they have been for several weeks.

While there is no need for alarm, dealers point out that everyone should be as saving of coal as possible and limit consumption to their immediate needs. This will leave coal for everyone, it is pointed out.

DIXIE SIGN WORK IS COMPLETED

Lima Man Erects Markers Between This City and Florida

If there are any motorists touring on the Dixie Highway between this city and Florida who never heard of Lima before, they will no longer be kept in ignorance.

Lima Automobile club signs mark the way from Lima to Jacksonville, by way of Indianapolis. The task of putting up the signs, undertaken by W. A. Leist, contractor, 958 Leland-ave. has been completed, Leist informed James I. Heffner, club manager in a letter received Wednesday.

Leist is now in Tampa and writes that the roads on the way south were much better than expected. A little rough in spots, but passable at all times, he says.

He is traveling on only one day. It was raining hard and he took advantage of the downpour to lay up at a garage and have some minor repairs made on his car.

Leist erected signs at principal points along the Dixie, commencing at Indianapolis and working south.

Lima motorists who are going to winter in the "land of flowers," will recognize their club signs at Indianapolis, Greenwood, Franklin, Columbus and Seymour, Indiana; Louisville, West Point, Camp Knox, Elizabethtown, Munfordsville, Mammoth Cave, Bowling Green and Franklin, Ky.

Crossing into Tennessee, signs will guide the way to Springfield, Nashville, Murfreesboro, Tullahoma, Winchester, Mt. Eagle, Jasper, Chattanooga and Fort Oglethorpe.

Thru Georgia signs are erected on the roads into Rome, Cartersville, Kennewish Mountain, Smyrna, Atlanta, Griffin, Forsyth, Macon, Abbeville, Fitzgerald, Douglas, Tallapoosa and Waycross. Other signs will show the way over the Florida state line into Jacksonville.

GRAND PRESIDENT O. R. C. AUXILIARY TO SPEAK HERE

WOMEN OF FRANCE TO CONTINUE SUFFRAGE FIGHT

PARIS.—The women of France will keep on fighting for suffrage in spite of the action of the senate yesterday in sidetracking a vote on the question indefinitely, leaders of the suffrage movement declared today.

"We will never say die," exclaimed Madame Dewitt-Schulmberger, president of the French Suffrage Association. "This battle is not lost in France nor even in the present parliament. It will be won here as in every other civilized country."

The senate's vote not to proceed to consideration of the separate articles of the bill was the parliamentary way of shelving the measure.

SEEK CAR DRIVER

Garages Combed for Auto That Injures Virgil Taylor

Garages in Allen and adjoining counties are being combed in an effort to discover the identity of a man driving a black Cadillac roadster who struck and seriously injured Virgil Taylor, 30, of 959 St. Johns-av on Allentown-rd., Tuesday.

Taylor was left lying unconscious in the road. He was picked up and brought to the city by John W. Thompson, county commissioner. He was able to be about Wednesday.

Taylor was running a county road scraper west. He observed the approach of the machine from the east, but being on the extreme right hand side of the road, thought nothing of it.

He was struck and hurled into the ditch. The road scraper was turned half way around. The driver of the Cadillac did not aid the injured man.

Believing that the roadster must have been damaged by the collision, county commissioners are seeking to learn if a car of its description was left in a garage for repairs.

INITIATORY EVENT TO BE PLANNED BY DELPHOS K. C.

Plans for an initiation by Delphos council, Knights of Columbus, will be discussed December 6 at a booster meeting. It was decided at the regular session, Tuesday night to take advantage of the present opportunity time for an initiatory event.

Twelve applications are on file. There are many prospects who desire to become members, it is stated.

Rev. Father Clark, St. Gerard's parish, Lima, will be invited to address the booster meeting.

On December 5, Delphos Knights will attend a booster meeting in defiance where the local K. of C. quartette will sing.

ELIDA LADY USED EVERYTHING

Says Only Plant Juice Gave Relief From Her Terrible Stomach Misery

PRaises HERBAL REMEDY

"Stomach trouble is the bane of the existence of millions of Americans," said The Plant Juice Man at his headquarters in Hunter's drug store, 49 Public Square, Lima. "It is a miserable affliction. Many people cannot eat more than a few bites without filling up with gas. Then they bloat, have intense pain in the stomach and chest, heart palpitations from the gas in the stomach and they feel nervous and fidgety. There is continual constipation, headaches day in and day out and the body seems drained of strength. Many such people have found Plant Juice just what they needed and have said that it gave them better health than they had known in years."

Just recently, Mrs. Poe Buehner, of Elida, Ohio, R. F. D. No. 1, came to Lima and gave The Plant Juice Man the following surprising testimony.

"For six years I suffered terrible agony from my stomach," said Mrs. Buehner. "I suffered from gas and bad bloating spells and finally I think my stomach became ulcerated. I had such awful pains in my stomach at times that I would think I was going to die. I had to be very careful about what I ate and if I ate anything solid in the evening I would suffer badly afterward and could not get any relief until I got it out of my stomach."

"I think I tried about every medicine I heard of but nothing gave me any relief and then I started to read in the papers about your Plant Juice, and finally I started taking it. I will say that Plant Juice is the only medicine that ever gave me relief and I surely can highly recommend it. Plant Juice is relieving me of the terrible suffering with my stomach and healthier in every way. I think your Plant Juice is just wonderful and I gladly endorse it to the public."

The Plant Juice Man is at Hunter's drug store, 49 Public Square, Lima, where he is daily meeting the local public and introducing and explaining the merits of this remedy. Free samples given.

Plant Juice is sold also in Lima at Hunter's store at Main and Wayne streets and at the Argonne drug store, opposite Post Office.—Adv.

HARDING HIGHWAY WORK AWAITS GOOD WEATHER

Construction of the Elida-rd, the first section of the Harding Highway west of Lima, temporarily halted by the advent of cold and wet weather, will be resumed as soon as possible.

Work was stopped because it is difficult to apply the tar surfacing in a uniform manner under damp conditions. Grover F. Clements, division engineer of the state highway department declared.

A few days of sunshine will witness completion of the road, Clements said.

Society News

ONE of the pretty social affairs of the week was that of Wednesday when Mrs. Charles L. Ackerman, State-st., welcomed the members of the Happy Hour club and a small group of guests at an attractive 1 o'clock luncheon at the Elks' Home.

A color scheme of pink and white was detailed throughout in the appointments. Pink roses were arranged in pretty effect and nut baskets and place cards were daintily affairs carrying out the predominating color scheme of pink and white.

Following the luncheon, an afternoon of cards was enjoyed.

One of the very delightful features of the regular matinee recital to be given at Memorial Hall Thursday afternoon by the Women's Music club will be the playing of "Sonata in A Major" by E. Harter, pianist, and Miss Mary K. Roby, pianist. Mr. Holmes is the guest-artist of the music club for this occasion.

This beautiful sonata, which is one of Cesar Franck's compositions, has never been played before at Lima audiences. It includes four parts—Allegretto, ben Moderato, Allegro, Recitativo and Fantasia Allegretto poco mosso.

The program has been arranged by Mrs. P. J. Hobart, Mrs. Gayle C. Dunifon and Miss Violet Bradley.

Mrs. Kenneth Kerr (Charlotte Sieber), Wilmington, arrived in this city Tuesday to remain with her mother, Mrs. Mary E. Sieber, W. Spring-st., until after Thanksgiving. Mr. Kerr will arrive in this city next week to visit at the Sieber home over Thanksgiving.

Miss Adelaide Annon and Miss Alma Schneider, both of Sidney, will be the week-end guests of Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Nagelson, N. Collett-st.

Susie Smart's Advice

Dear Miss Smart: There are four girls between 15 and 17 years of age. Are we too young to go to a party? (1) There is a girl in our neighborhood. She is always telling us about it and the most always get us in trouble. How should we act toward her? (2) What would be a proper name for a girl of a few girls? (3) How is our writing?

(1) Providing your parents have no objections it would probably be permissible for you to accept occasional invitations from the boys. Some discrimination should be made, however, between a girl of 15 and a girl of 17. A girl of 17 is old enough to be expected to know enough about the conventions and about the facts of life to be trusted to conduct herself as a young girl should. However, no girl, who is in school, should be permitted to accept too many attentions from the boys and become too interested in them. A deep interest in boys almost invariably interferes with a girl's school work.

(2) That is most unpleasant, isn't it? It is almost unbelievable that a girl would be so unprincipled as to tell falsehoods about other girls, which she knows to be untrue. Did it ever occur to you that you may give this girl some very good reasons for making unfavorable and discourteous remarks about you? Of course, that does not excuse her. No one is to be excused for making unkind remarks about another.

Just one little word of advice, however! Very often two, three, or even four girls become great chums. They are always together and always appear very congenial and friendly among themselves. That is all very lovely but in many cases these girls become indifferent toward their other friends and acquaintances and soon they acquire the name of "snips." They seem to live for themselves and think of no one else but themselves. They consider it cute and smart to be cool and indifferent to some girl, girls, who are not as fortunate as they.

Do not feel that I am attempting to make an example of your case. I have no way whatsoever of knowing whether or not you and your friends are of this flippant character. I sincerely trust that you are not.

In the future be courteous and friendly with this neighborhood girl and occasionally invite her to join you in your pleasures. If you prove to her that you are willing to be friends it is not likely that she will show such a "belligerent" attitude toward you and your girl chums.

(3) Frankly I have almost exhausted my supply of suggestions for the names of clubs. Put on your "thinking cap" and I know that with four active brains all concentrated on the same problem you will be able to think of a far more appropriate and clever name than I. (4) "Our" writing is very good.

Dear Miss Smart: I am a cartoonist who is taking lessons through a famous cartoonist. I wish to do a little amateur work while taking lessons. Could you tell me of any concern which might be able to give me work? I am capable of drawing good strips and I would appreciate the address of the following: (a) N. P. A. Service Company, (b) People Service Company and (c) International Feature Company?

(1) (a) N. P. A.—1200 W. Third-st., Cleveland; (b) People Service Company, 238 William-st., New York City. Other feature service companies are Bell Syndicate, 725 World Building, New York City; Ledger Syndicate, Independence Square, Philadelphia, Pa.; and Newspaper Feature Service, 241 W. 58th-st., New York City.

Dear Miss Smart: I saw in the evening News where someone asked the address of The Wizard. His permanent address is 10, Richard, The Wizard, Suite 310, Putnam Building, New York City.

It was very kind and thoughtful of you to write. I am very grateful to you and trust that the inquirer will be benefited by your informal letter.

Love Flies Out The Window

DEEP WATERS

BY ZOE BECKLEY

BEGIN HERE TODAY
Matrimony, after 15 years of married life, was a failure, as far as JOHN BARRETT and his wife ANITA, were concerned. Barrett, successful in business, finds the tedium of marriage intolerable and leaves Anita to go to MYRA DEAN, a woman of the world. She reminds him of his responsibilities and her unwillingness to figure as correspondent in a divorce case. Barrett returns to talk the matter over with his wife. He tells her that in his home he had received no sympathy and no credit for his success in the world.

GO ON WITH THE STORY
Anita Barrett had been listening to her husband with her back. Now she faced him, her tormented soul in her eyes.

"Yes John—I know all the rest of it—that I take you for granted that I have no interest in your work, that I'm wrapped up in my own affairs and the children, that I am cold and detached."

"Well, perhaps I am. But it's because I'm disgusted with your selfishness, your self-centered conviction that you are the only member of the family with a grievance."

"I didn't say I was. I said I know I have my faults and failings, but I get only the discredit for them, never the credit a man who has made a success in life ought to."

"Stop right there," she interrupted, her breath coming laboriously as she strove for calm. "Does it ever occur to you that I had a share in that success? That because I patched and mended and scoured and scrubbed and walked miles to save a quarter on my marketing bills and sat up nights with the babies and scrimped along without a doctor? Oh, I don't want your pity now!" she cried savagely as he made a contrite movement.

"All I want is a little understanding—and I never get it. As soon as we began to prosper you immersed yourself body and soul in your business. You came home at night tired, I know. But so was I tired—do you expect me to be bright and entertaining, and I was too fatigued to know how to be. You wanted diversion and I had no diversion to give. You found me dull, and I found it hateful that you should find me dull."

"I didn't know how to be anything else—in those days. Later I learned that where men had clubs and interests and nice places to go, women had, too. If they wanted them. Clothes and a beautiful house helped fill a woman's time—if not her heart."

"I turned to these. The more money came to us, the more you plunged yourself into business. Many a time when I wanted tenderness, you turned from me unresponsively, your mind on other things. It chilled and angered me."

"I began to feel I was just the keeper of your house, the overseer

"I CAN'T COMPETE WITH THE OTHER WOMAN."

of your children. I could no longer put my arms about you and woo your love. I couldn't I felt like 'the woman scorned.' I no longer attracted you, and because I sensed my shortcomings, I saw you were leaning toward—the Other Woman. Hush, I will say it! Myra had not been worn out with poverty and work and childbearing. She was free and fresh and young for all that her years are almost equal to mine. Well—Anita stopped, suddenly spent. "Well, it's too late now, I'm dead inside. I've schooled myself to coldness. I can't compete with the—Other Woman. If I could, I wouldn't."

"That ends it, then," said Barrett. "We've failed and we've got to face the inevitable. Goodbye." He turned swiftly and walked from the house.

FIFTY YEARS AGO

A young man who practiced medicine in Pennsylvania became famous and was called in consultation in many towns and cities because of his success in the treatment of disease. This was Dr. Pierce, who finally made up his mind to place some of his medicines before the public, and moving to Buffalo, N. Y., put up what he called his "Favorite Prescription," and placed it with the druggists in every state.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has long been recognized as a tonic for diseases peculiar to womanhood. After suffering pain, feeling nervous, dizzy, weak and dragged-down by weaknesses of her sex—a woman is quickly restored to health by its use. Thousands of women testify that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has entirely eradicated their distressing ailments.

More recently that wonderful discovery of Dr. Pierce's, called Anuric (for kidneys and bladder), has been successfully used by many thousands who write Dr. Pierce of the benefits received—that their backache, rheumatism, and other symptoms of uric acid deposits in joints or muscles have been completely conquered by its use.

Send 10c to Dr. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., for trial pkg. of any of his remedies, or write for free medical advice.—Adv.

A Square Meal and A Square Deal

Here's a square deal for the people who can't eat a square meal without after-pain and distress.

Go to your druggist today and get a box of M-I-O-Na Tablets—the great prescription for indigestion and stomach troubles.

Take one, or if you are suffering in intense, two tablets with or after meals and at the end of ten days if you can't eat a square meal without distress go and get your money back.

That's where the square deal comes in. But M-I-O-Na is really a stomach up-builder of great merit.

The quick and positive action of M-I-O-Na on the stomach in case of gas, waterbrash, sour stomach and heartburn is worth a lot of money to any sufferer.

Why not try M-I-O-Na—at druggists everywhere, or at The Thompson Drug Store.—Adv.

The "Self-Treatment" Mistake

Every year millions of dollars are spent by the American public for useless—and often harmful—medicines.

So many people who would never imagine themselves capable of repairing an intricate piece of machinery will undertake to repair the most intricate machine of all—the human body.

When you're ill—even though your illness may seem slight—see your doctor. Don't buy a supply of pills or powders with the idea that they'll cure you. Your doctor can find the CAUSE of your illness and treat that.

When you see him, if you NEED medicine, he'll give you a prescription.

In that case, take his prescription to the drug store of the highest standards—to the drug store where the scientific preparation of medicines on physicians' prescriptions is a work of FIRST IMPORTANCE.

TRIUMPHS OF M. JONQUELLE

MELVILLE DAVISON POST

THIS WEEK TODAY
M. JONQUELLE, greatest of French detectives, tells the story of the love affair of a great Englishman—the only romantic episode in the life of the world-famous figure who met a death in the North Sea after a brilliant career in Egypt.

CHAPTER III
Passing a center-table as by inadvertence, she turned down a photograph frame.

The simple, unconscious act caught the man's attention, and when he was alone he picked the thing up and turned it over. It was an old, battered, silver rim, enclosing a picture of himself cut out of an illustrated paper. The picture was yellowed with age and marked around in faded ink. It showed a smart young officer above a legend of "Brilliant Achievement." He remembered distinctly the very day that a marked copy of this paper had come to him, sent out by an adoring aunt.

The brilliant achievement had been the rather clever handling of some guns in a hill fight. It was a tiny war and the correspondent was making all he could of every incident.

He held the thing a moment in his hands, trying to remember how many years ago that had been. It seemed a lifetime, and he put it back gently on the table, face down.

Immediately the girl came in with a tray. She could not find a servant in the house but she was not disturbed. She was flushed and smiling; her velvety brown eyes danced, and the corners of her mouth made little dimples.

In the man's burning head the thought passed that in Eastern countries meant something serious. Things like it had preceded the Murders.

But his mind was in another quarter. Did he know him? His brown hair was shot with gray now; there was hardly any brown left in it. His jaw would look lean and bony; the planes of his face would be flattened. She could hardly wait to show him what she had brought in with the tea. She slipped the tray onto the table and put the thing into his hands.

It was a letter written to the hero—a sheet from an old blue-ruled copy book, the words painfully printed, the letters uneven, "r" and "w" always a head taller than the rest.

"I called them 'are-ah' and 'double ch,'" she said. "They were hard to make than the others."

Then she gave him a little picture. "Isn't the postscript heavenly?"

He thought the fingers were on his heart. He could hardly read the dim-printed line.

"And if you come over and lick the Yankees, I will love you more better."

He felt himself going weak all over. This was the only love-letter that any woman had ever written him. He had got innumerable letters pretending to be, but this was the only one.

And here it was an April flower reaching him in winter. Here was youth, dimpled and red-mouthed, smiling at him, a cool finger crooked around his heart.

He felt that he was capable of committing any folly. But he said only:

"It is charming."

He wished to ask for the letter, but he might keep it all day, but he did not know how to put it. He was trying to think of some way, when suddenly, in the direction of the citadel, a gun boomed. He had been folding the letter up, turning it in his fingers, trying to think how to ask for it, and so did not see the light so over to the window. Now she gave a little smothered cry. He put the bit of paper down and crossed his eyes to her.

Immediately he saw what had

THE HEAVY WHIR LASHED HIM.

alarmed her. When they had entered from the car, they had left the gate unlocked and now figures were slipping in.

An Arab in a white burnoose was pushing the gate gently open. He was stooping over, and carried the dagger bayonet of a German rifle in his lean, brown hand. Behind him was a black face, and a blue caftan after that.

It is the strength of England in the East to act first and masterfully. The man knew what this furtive entering meant, what the boom of the gun meant, and he hesitated no fraction of a moment.

"Keep inside," he said, and he went out of the room and down the steps.

In the hall he looked about an instant, as for a weapon. There was none, but on a rack by the door with crops and walking sticks, there was a heavy dog whip with a long plaited lash. He caught it down as he passed.

He crossed the garden in great strides. The creatures in the gate hesitated and crowded together, only the Arab advanced, the dagger bayonet concealed under his burnoose.

But the courage and the contempt of the Englishman mastered him, as the front and mane of the advancing keeper masters a snarling beast.

He struck out with his weapon, but the heavy whip lashed him, cutting his face, his neck his shoulders and, like a dog, he was driven back. And a moment later the whole evil-featured troop went crowding through the gate like jackals.

He shot the bolts and made the gate fast. Then he felt a hand slipped through his arm, and the girl was beside him. Her face was full of color. There was something soft and fiery in the pose of the head, the chin thrust out, and the teeth set on the velvet underlip.

"It was fine! They were afraid!" she said.

And again, all over, the man felt that had only warmth. Her figure in the soft light seemed rounded up. Her slender face gleamed like a flower. And he wanted to take her in his arms and clutch her to his mouth. He felt, in a sort of panic, that in a moment his head would go.

"They were only a pack of dogs," he said. Words seemed to steady him.

Then, far out in the city, he heard the cackle of a machine gun, and he got himself in hand.

"We must see what this thing means," he said. "How does one 'o up'?" and he indicated the house-top with a gesture.

She pointed out the way, her hand on his arm, now with a firm hold, now sliding along the sleeve. And, on the stair, step by step as they went up, the man felt this soft, caressing hand fingering his heart.

On the lunette of the soldier understood. Islam had risen and her innumerable hordes, swarming like vermin, held the city. The whole desert had entered under pretense of honor to the sacred carpet.

The procession had been cunningly delayed, and the English regiments, separated by the crowds of people, were being cut to pieces. Suddenly wedged in, they were at the mercy of the Arab knife.

The city was a pot of sound. The man saw instantly that the giments were lost. He looked out southward, toward the citadel, and under his eyes there leaped up a long crimson blur and, above the innumerable scents of Cairo, he caught the smell of fire. Moreover, the native regiments, ad gone off to Islam; they were forming here and there under the green crescent in perfect order.

The man stood motionless, every muscle tense, his face like iron. The fingers of England were slipping off of Egypt!

Then a cool, firm hand entered his own. He looked down and, all at once, as by some sorcery, the white city with its hell of sounds became a thing unreal. He saw only the girl who stood beside him, straight, slim, lithe, and beautiful as a Nalac, her dark hair banked around her face.

He noted every detail of her—her long lashes, her exquisite mouth. And the most mysterious, the most irresistible impulse in the world seized him. He turned swiftly, caught her up in his arms, and kissed her.

As their lips met, the girl's arms went out around him. Her warm body seemed to melt into his own.

to become part of him, of every nerve, of every blood drop, of every fragment of his flesh and her voice, broken with kisses, seemed to murmur in his heart.

"Oh, my love! I shall be with you always!"

"You came an ugly cropper, Sir Henry," said the big surgeon; "been unconscious until we got the bone up."

The man looked about him. He was in the English hospital. An orderly was arranging some article on a table. The surgeon was smiling; a newspaper, which he had just put down, lay across a chair. The picture of a woman in it caught the man's eye. It was the picture, in worn-out middle life, of that wonderful woman whom he had set and loved while the plate of broken bone pressed on his brain. He read the notice underneath. She had died sitting in the window of the English hotel at sunset.

And all at once he realized that from that hour from the moment the hope fell in the wet street, every incident and detail—the girl, the rising, the violence, the splendid love of his life—had been figments of the fancy!

And vaguely, as from a distance he heard the big surgeon going out: "Beautiful operation. Sir Henry. We shall have you in the saddle at Khartum in a fortnight."

Another thrilling adventure of M. Jonquille. "The Woman on the Terrace," will begin in our next issue.

Nancy and Nick were still hunting for Mother Goose's broom. Along the road they went, searching and inquiring of every one they met.

By and by Nancy exclaimed, "I declare, Nick. This road is getting as crooked as a— as a corkscrew. I never saw so many twists and turns in my life."

"Neither did I," agreed Nick, looking up and down in a puzzled sort of way. "I feel like the soldier who met himself coming back. We'll never get anywhere this way."

But the little Green Shoes trudged bravely on and before many minutes the Twins found themselves in front of a very crooked house. Indeed the house was so crooked that the front steps went up to the back door and the cellar windows were on the roof.

"Well of all things!" declared both children together. "This is the crookedest thing yet!"

But they were wrong. There were more wonders to be seen. The barn beyond a crooked fence was quite as crooked as the house, and the cows and horses and pigs and chickens looked worse than a Humpty Dumpty Circus after the baby has been playing with it.

As they were gazing open-mouthed at all these wonders, the door of the house opened and a crooked man appeared. "Come in, friends," he invited. "You look tired and perhaps you would like to rest. Besides I like to talk to travelers as they usually bring news. I am, as you may have guessed, the Crooked-Man-Who-Went-a-Crooked-Mile-and-Found-a-Crooked-Six-Pence-Against-a-Crooked-Still."

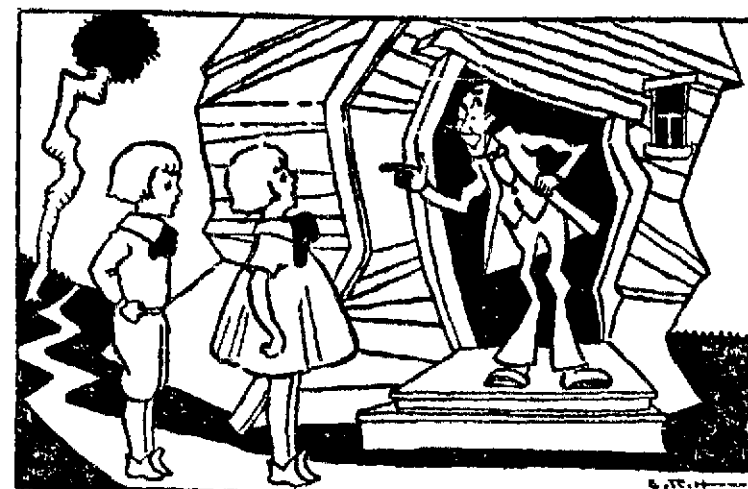

"But here's a secret, the six pence is no good. No one will take it. So I keep it for a pocket-piece. And now you know about me, come in and tell me about yourselves."

New York — Brooklyn wants to trade Zach Wheat to the St. Louis Cardinals for Jack Smith and Bottomly and Leon Cadore to the Braves for Joe Oeschger, according to another hot rumor.

RULING CHANGES FINAL RESULT

(By MERRICK M. HILL)

Word has just been received from football experts in Chicago that the protested touchdown in the Central-Sidney game early in the grid season has been allowed and that the score of the game now stands 12 to 0 in favor of Central.

The play in question occurred in the third quarter. While Sidney took time out, Lones, Central left end, crawled to the extreme north side of the field and lay prone on the ground close to the sideline.

He was not seen by Sidney and after play started, he received a long pass from Burdette and carried the oval across Sidney's goal line. Sidney protested the play on the ground that this play was unsportsmanlike. Burdette was acting captain and he consented to the ruling out of the play under a friendly protest to determine the exact meaning of the rule.

The decision sent to Coach Thibault says that the rule applies to fields, which are not surrounded by a fence and where the player near the sidelines is apt to be partially surrounded by spectators and hidden from the view of the opposing team.

In the case of the Central-Sidney game, it was decided that there was nothing to prevent Lones being in full view of the Sidney team and that the play was legitimate in every way.

Following the announcement Tuesday that secret practice was to be the rule at both South and Central in preparation for the annual Thanksgiving Day game, comes the second announcement that the activities of South will be surrounded by the utmost mystery.

A few weeks ago, Coach Burdette at South declared that his proteges would play straight football and would not attempt to learn a number of new plays for use in the city-championship battle.

Now however, the workouts seem to indicate a radical change is being made in the style of play, altho no definite information can be learned from the coach or captain.

"We are working hard," Coach Burdette said, "and are putting in every minute possible in an effort to make certain of winning the game with Central. And we intend to win if possible. My boys will fight and fight hard to retain their supremacy over Central."

Central, while holding closed sessions, does not endeavor to hide the fact that the team is working on several new fake plays, which he expects will produce touchdowns. In discussing the game, Coach Thibault stated that "his team is seeking revenge for last year's defeat. I personally expect to see the team play better and harder than at any other time during the season. One thing I am certain of is that a side tackle will be had and every player will use every ounce of energy, both eleven will play a clean sportsmanlike game."

Coach Thibault has decided to call varsity basketball practice at Central High Thursday night. It was previously decided to start varsity practice directly after Thanksgiving, but the change was made in order to get workouts going regularly before the close of the grid season.

Faculty Manager Dietrick, who will assist in whipping the Red and Green quintet in shape, will have charge of the squad until the close of the grid season.

Cage practice for the first week will consist mostly of imbroing up the candidates who have not been out for football. Should the cage men start practicing with football players, who are in fine condition they would be at a considerable advantage unless given some preliminary work.

Football men will report ten days later.

Publicity Often Proves Costly To Recruits

(By BILLY EVANS)

Presenting the "million-dollar babies" of baseball, Jimmy O'Connell, Billy Kamm and Jack Bentley. In the spring the baseball fans of the country will give much attention to this costly trio. Publicity always arouses curiosity and good news knows these three young men have had more than their share of publicity.

Jimmy O'Connell goes to the New York Giants. About a year ago McGraw gave $75,000 to the San Francisco club for O'Connell. He was then a first baseman in order to put thru the deal McGraw was forced to allow O'Connell to play the following year on the coast.

Since McGraw intends to use O'Connell as an outfielder he stipulated that he be played in the outfield rather than at first. In all probability McGraw figures on O'Connell filling the center field gap on the Giants.

Billy Kamm comes to the Chicago White Sox with the reputation of being the best third sacker ever sent east from the Coast League. Kamm cost the Sox $100,000 in addition to a number of players. Chicago has already turned over three pitchers, Hodge, McWeeny and Courtney; also Third Baseman Eddie Mulligan as part payment.

Jack Bentley of the Baltimore club, known as the Babe Ruth of the minors, was only recently purchased by McGraw for the New York Giants. Bentley is said to have cost McGraw $75,000. He can play first or pitch. McGraw says he intends to use him on the rubber.

The showing of O'Connell and Kamm last year was a bit of a surprise. O'Connell, a natural left-handed hitter, was expected to show the way to Kamm, who is a right hander, and more or less a manufactured hitter. Kamm was a weak batter when he broke into the Coast League but has shifted his style until he gets results.

Last season in the Coast League Kamm batted .349, while O'Connell hit only .335. Bentley batted .359, and when not playing first base won 13 out of 14 games as a pitcher. McGraw says he intends to use him in that capacity.

What will the spring bring forth? We shall see what we shall see.

John A. Hargis, president of the National League, has already pressed the opinion that the National League is behind Landis he never speaks unless he knows his league behind him.

Charles A. Stoneham, president of the Giants, is out today with emphatic endorsement of Landis. He says he does not like the pre-draft agreement, but that as far as it is a matter of contract between the minors and the majors, it is allowed to run to its legal end.

Charles Ebbets, owner of Brooklyn club, might have his hand against Landis because of his past against spending any kind of money, but the whip will be cracked over him as it was at the meet last winter.

The old war between Johnson and the New York, Chicago and Boston clubs which had been in the pre of settlement, threatens to break out again because Johnson is to take the first Saturday and Sunday at the New Yankee stadium, a from the Boston Red Sox and as a plum to the Athletics. Iry Frazee, owner of the Boston claims it is his turn for a slice of the pie that will run around $20. He says he'll fight for it and Yanks say they will battle him. Charley Comiskey always be counted to take up arms against Johnson on anything.

Ty Cobb Given 400 Average

CHICAGO — B. D. Johnson, president of the American League has decided, it became known today, that a disputed hit by Tyrus R. Cobb, manager of the Detroit Americans at New York, May 14, last, shall be counted as a hit, and not an error, as it originally was scored, with the single hit, Cobb's average for the season was boosted to an even 400, the third time in his major league career he has reached that goal.

The May 14 hit was called an error by one scorer, that man, however, bearing the designation "official scorer" while eleven of his companions said it was a safe hit.

Delphos High Lineup Change

Lineup of the Jefferson high school eleven, Delphos, will be changed slightly Friday when Captain Bob McDonald leads his warriors onto the field for the second brush of the season with Convoy. In addition to installing Judkins to his old post at left end, Coach Correll announced that Davis will play left guard instead of Wise and that Evans, who played a bang-up game at left end last week, will be used at the right extremity instead of Hendrickson.

The other positions will be filled by the same players who triumphed over Paulding Friday. Meekins will be at left tackle; Hummer, c; Biglow, rg; Hick, rt; Shafter, qb; McDonald, lb; Beardsley, rh, and Spelman, fo.

Practice this week will be a three-day affair. A session was held Tuesday evening and the boys will report at the field again Wednesday and Thursday evenings.

With possibilities of finishing the season with a percentage of .667 or six games won and three lost, the Delphos gridlers are snapping into their work with gusto. It is not he liever the Red and White will have trouble in defeating Convoy, which has not been going well since handing Delphos a 7-0 defeat early in the season, but Wapakoneta will furnish the real opposition Thanksgiving Day.

If the Jeffersonians triumph over Convoy and then defeat Wapakoneta, the team will have a record of six wins and three defeats.

The game Friday will be played at the E. Cleveland-st. grounds beginning at 2:30 p. m.

Delphos to Clash With Wapak

The populace of Delphos will eat its turkey and then see their pride, the Jefferson high school eleven, clash with Wapakoneta.

Football first and afterward the turkey? Nay, nay, chorus fans who do not consider for an instant that the Delphos Wapakoneta clash should be held at Cleveland Field in the morning.

Tradition demands the annual Turkey Day after the feast, so that is the arrangement that will be carried out, athletic authorities announced Tuesday.

The game will be the big Thanksgiving event. It is predicted that 1,500 persons will see the teams clash for the last time of the season.

LIMA, DELPHOS IN B. B. MEET

Basketball fans will see two strikingly similar teams in action Friday night when the St. Rose cage squad of Lima meets St. John's on the Delphos floor. The quintets are alike in height and unless the dope should be given a decided upset, each will use practically the same floor tactics.

The main fight will be centered in the relative basket shooting ability of Shibley and R. Uim, two Delphos forwards, and Daley and McNamara, the St. Rose heavy artillery.

Speed will predominate. While no featherweights by any means, the Delphos tossers have found it necessary to step on the gas more than did the team of 1921-22. Less avoirdupois is the reason.

Local fandom is mindful that St. John's cagers walloped St. Rose several times last season, once on the Lima floor by the making of one basket. Rivalry between the two fives continues.

The game Friday will be the first of a series that may be extended to five contests. Another setto with St. Rose is scheduled for December 29.

There has been some improvement in condition of the players since Friday night, but sundry charley horses still persist. Shibley has a sprained ligament in his right leg which is bothersome indeed, the center, is worrying along on a troublesome pair of feet.

Army And Navy Ready

PHILADELPHIA. — The West Point football squad will arrive here tomorrow for the final workouts preparatory to the historic gridiron clash with the Annapolis midshipmen next Saturday, the Navy team is expected to arrive Friday afternoon in time for a scrimmage on Franklin Field the day before the game. According to word received here the Army lineup has been decided upon, but Coach Fellows of the Navy is said to be still undecided about two positions.

Word from Washington was to the effect that Secretary of War Weeks, Secretary of the Navy Denby and General Pershing will head the host of officials guests from Washington who will be spectators at the gridiron classic. President Harding, it was said, will be unable to attend.

Richard After Fight Rights

New York — Tex Rickard wants the boxing privilege at the new Yankee stadium and he will outbid any other promoter he said. He has conferred with the Yankee owners but they have reached no agreement.

The Warning

published yesterday in this paper, regarding men and boys telling the story of "the wandering boy" to get money for themselves, is without foundation.

The true part of that announcement regarding "The Wandering Boy" is the story of "the wandering boy."

His story is heart touching—"the wandering boy" is real.

He is human.

He is lovable.

He made mistakes but you will forgive him.

He will make you laugh.

He will make you cry.

He will make you rich in human experience.

Watch for Where is my wandering boy tonight?

"MISS BOB WHITE" SCORES ON FIRST NIGHT

(BY ETHEL WAGNER)
D EIGHTFULLY finished and with a "professional" snap and verve not often found in amateur theatricals, the premiere performance of "Miss Bob White," at the Faurot Opera House on Tuesday evening, was greeted by a brilliant and packed house. Society turned out en masse to witness the production and was most generous in its enthusiastic praise.

W. H. McGreevey, whose director-genius and ability are largely responsible for the evident success of the undertaking, has drilled the various choruses thru intricate dance and song numbers, which were executed with an ease and precision nearing perfection. Groups of lovely girls, charmingly costumed, create the various choruses, led by Mrs. Lillian Deisel Timmerman, appeared to good advantage in the operatic ensemble, "Bubble Land."

The "Fertile Chorus," with the younger set, was rehearsed again and again, while the "Milkmaid" ensemble, in a clever song and dance, were repeatedly enjoyed.

One of the big hits of the entire performance is the "I Can't Help Loving the Girls" chorus, led by Mr. Carl Young, vocalist, with fifteen society belles, exquisitely gowned, in the number. Each chorus and specialty number was performed smoothly and in perfect rhythm, with each participant in perfect accord.

Of the individuals, Mrs. Fraser Turner Austin, in the role of Miss Bob White, drew prolonged applause by her beautiful vocal selections and charming personality. Miss Margaret Gregg, as Miss Autumn and Irene Harriott Klinger, the demure daughter of Friend Rodd, pleased mightily in their respective parts.

Fun galore is furnished by two clever young men, Mr. Fran Clark and Mr. Blake Robinson, whose character songs and antics were indeed comical. Their roles, are perhaps, the best in the entire production.

The village "copper," enacted by John Moke, evoked much merriment, while a clever darky solo rendered by W. L. Allgire brought a round of hearty applause.

Masculine talent is plentiful in cast, with S. M. Williams, Ralph Shriver, De Maus Leonard and Dale R. Marshall in remarkably realistic impersonations.

The showing of "Miss Bob White" will be repeated on Wednesday evening at the Faurot Opera House. Proceeds of both performances are to be utilized for charitable purposes, under the direction of the Federation of Women's Clubs.

Mary Pickford in the new version of "Tess of the Storm Country," soon to be released.

"Where Is My Wandering Boy Tonight?" Coming

AMONG the interesting announcements of future cinema bills to show in the city, the news that "Where Is My Wandering Boy Tonight?" is to appear at the Lyric, starting on Saturday, is associated with enthusiasm by movie fans the city over.

This splendid heart interest drama, with a theme that has an unusually wide appeal and full of interest, is enacted by a superb cast of players, including Cullen Landis, Patry Ruth Miller, and Virginia True Boardman. The production is artistic and extremely realistic, besides having plenty of action, thrills, adventure and romance.

In presenting to patrons, "Where Is My Wandering Boy Tonight?" the management of the Lyric is offering one of the most successful films of the season. It will remain at that theatre for five days only.

Resume of Week-End Vaudeville Coming Thursday

TODAY'S mail brings a program of Keith vaudeville to be shown at the Faurot, starting on Thursday. Herewith the meat of the schedule.

Ann Francis, a d. inty singing and dancing comedienne, tops the list. Her program is varied and destined to please the most and his girls, in Walter Manthey, will offer a charming dance revue, with a charmingly staged and artistically arranged program of the art of Terpsichore. Mr. Manthey is renowned dancer, and with the assistance of four pretty girls, his offering is destined for an important place on the program.

Sullivan and Myers in a clever automobile comedy, are mirth provokers of the first order and their clever sketch will appeal to car owners and car dodgers alike.

The Musical Hunters offer a keen novelty, and while just what kind of music they specialize in remains a deep dark mystery to me, they hold an enviable reputation as talented musicians.

Black face comedies and antics galore are to be anticipated from Lloyd and Goode, real southerners, also on the program.

Virginia, she is said to have met a delightful old lady who gave her a famous fruit cake recipe that had been in the family for 200 years. Miss Ferguson, after serving it at her home and seeing what a hit it made, decided as report has it, to consider it a little opportunity knocking at her door, hence, the company.

Nazimova's "Salome" is almost ready for release.

Marshall Nellan, it is reported, will spend a couple of years at Boston "Tech," object to become an engineer. We now interestedly await Mr. Nellan's frantic denial.

Betty Blythe is in making personal appearances and Dorothy Dalton is expected Friday to spend a day or so greeting old friends.

In off moments Viola Dana knits sweaters. She has any number to her credit.

DANGER IN COLDS

If Neglected, They Often Develop Serious Illness
Take Father John's Medicine

There is lurking danger in every cold because, if neglected, it may attack the breathing tract. Prompt action should be taken when a cold develops.

Begin taking Father John's Medicine right away. This old-fashioned family medicine, whose basis is cod liver oil scientifically prepared with other ingredients soothes and heals the breathing tract and at the same time builds fighting strength to fight off the cold. Father John's Medicine is guaranteed free from nerve deadening drugs and stimulants. — Adv.

THE MODERN MOTHER

faces problems far beyond those of her forbears. She herself must be a much more competent person, combining in one individual the duties of nurse, cook, teacher and moral instructor. It is no wonder that many conscientious women break under the strain, and that others drag out a miserable existence; always tired, and yet unable to take a day's vacation. Such women will find themselves benefited and their burdens made easier by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which was made for suffering women, and does not fail to relieve them. — Adv.

organs to work that moulting threw out of gear. It starts the feed the egg-

STOCKS DROP ONE TO FIVE POINTS

Attack on General List Renewed by Short Interests

NEW YORK.—Professional selling pressure was directed at the opening of today's stock market against some of the independent stocks, chemicals and minor oils, giving it a reactionary appearance. Considerable improvement was noted, however, in the southwestern railroad shares and a few specialties which were responsible to strength. Allied Chemical broke three points and Davison Chemical 1-2, while Crucible and American Steel and Iron Products yielded fractionally. Standard Oil of California and Royal Dutch were weak spots were. Other American Express, Western Union and American Bank all of a point or more. St. Louis Southwestern preferred moved up 1-4 and Socony. American Bank jumped 3-1/2 points to a new high record and Public Service of New Jersey gained 1-2 on over-announcement of a higher dividend and then receded 1-2 on profit-taking. Foreign exchanges were easy.

Most stocks received relatively little support during the morning. Trading was exceedingly small in volume and prices, nevertheless, kept easing steadily, with the selling covering a wide range of shares. Dividend paying railroad issues were about the only exceptions to the general reaction. Low-priced rails were supported freely, with Baltimore and Ohio, Missouri Pacific and Texas and Pacific preferred falling over two points. Special heaviness was displayed by the food, utility, merchandising and Pan-American Oil shares, the losses running from one to nearly five points. Special buying occurred in Cuno De Pasco, Electric Storage Battery, White Eagle Oil, New York Air Brake A, United Drug and United States Steel. The gains ranging from one to 1-1/2 points. Call money opened at 5 per cent.

Professional short interests renewed their attack on the general list of today's market, forcing some extensive liquidation of long stock and depressing prices one to five points. A relatively high ruling rate for call money, absence of public participation and failure of bullish interests to respond to the declaration of additional stock and increased dividends stimulated speculative operations for the day. Sales approximated 975,000 shares.

The closing was heavy.

SHORT SHAVINGS

Carl Richter, pinocchio expert, had his new filver only two weeks. But he was getting along fine with it on his way back from a run to Elida.

Then suddenly he ran into the rear end of a load of hay which blocked the road. The hay hejarr-ed loose almost buried his car and himself. He crawled out from under the hay, looked around in a dazed way, and then voiced this indignant protest, "I blow my horn!"

When Mike Laughlin, now a policeman, was a taxi driver, he reported he saw a deer jump a pasture fence while driving home late at night from Allentown.

He thinks it was startled by his headlights and the way he blew his horn. "If it wasn't a deer it was a cow," he says. "The only thing that makes me think it was a cow is that it had a rather long tail, and was headed for a barn yard when I saw it last."

Joseph Wilhelm of Wooster, who set out after rabbits the first day of the open season, is 77.

Other veterans rabbit hunters of his neighborhood are Jacob Mougey, aged 78; H. B. Eaby, 77, and Levi Winebreuer, 75.

"I can jump fields like the youngest of them," says the experienced Joseph Wilhelm. "Of course, I can't run as far as I could when I was 20. But what's the good of running after a rabbit?"
